CENTRAL DISTRICT SCHOOL MEETING
Estimates for the Ensuing Year Approved and a Tax of Three Mills Voted—Reduction from Last Year.

Promptly at 8 o'clock on Monday evening the meeting of the Central school district was called to order by Chairman E. Woodworth, and upon call for the election of a chairman, Amos A. Browning was nominated by F. J. Leavens, and he was the choice of the gathering of seven members of the district, most of whom were members of the board or were present because they had to be.
The call for the meeting and the estimated expenses and receipts were read by Clerk Woodworth and the estimated expenses and receipts were approved and adopted for the year.
The treasurer, J. Leavens, stated that by the estimated expenses a tax of three mills would be required this year, which would wipe out the indebtedness and at the same time be a half mill lower than for the past few years. He recommended that a tax of three mills be laid, payable Oct. 10, 1910, and it was so voted.
The compensation of the tax collector was made the same as last year, one per cent. After having been in session for about five minutes, the meeting adjourned on a note of having passed off with the usual harmony.

FIRST REGIMENT IN CAMP AT NANTIC.
Several Accidents and Some Trouble Over Issuance of Rations.

The First Infantry, Connecticut National guard, arrived at Camp Weeks, Nanticoke, Monday morning, for the annual tour of duty, and the tents which had been used by the men of the Second regiment, who were there last year, were being taken down. A large part of the men's attention was given to getting settled, but in the early afternoon a lecture on camp sanitation and later a regimental drill.

Private Adolphus H. Miles, Company K, Hartford, suffered a severe scalp wound by being caught against a car door, and Sergeant B. G. Ransome, Company M, Winsted, is in the hospital suffering from stomach trouble. Corporal Herbert Bissell, Company E, South Manchester, broke a thumb while playing ball.

The regular army officers detailed for the week include Captains H. L. Jackson and D. G. Lewis of the Infantry, Major A. M. Barney of the United States medical corps as medical instructor, and Captain T. H. of the field artillery.

Major E. L. Lebel and Lieut. Amos K. Barnes of the Second Infantry will act as umpires this week.
Governor Weeks is expected to come to the camp on Wednesday, and will give a lecture on the camp and his military life. Former Governor McLean and Congressman John Q. Tilson are among others expected about that time.

The afternoon was spent in getting settled, in battalion drill and in camp sanitation. At 6 o'clock some complaint was made by the men owing to their inability to get their rations on time. The grove ration was given out until nearly 9 o'clock, and it was somewhat of a hustle in order to get the rations out in time for the night. The night rations, which should have been given out at half past 6, were not given out until 9 o'clock. Just what caused the delay is not known.
